Dear Doctor Lederberg:

Thanks for sending the clipping concerning my brother's appointment in Sydney from the "Age". My brother will have quite a readjustment to make when he returns to Australia after some 32 years. It will be quite an adjustment for his wife, who is American. The oldest son has already entered the Sydney University Medical School and will have to make the jump from the American educational system to the Australian.

We very much enjoyed our visit with you and the indirect contact with my native state of Victoria that you have given has meant a lot to me. Unfortunately, the pressures and responsibilities of the work I have undertaken have prevented me from considering a visit to Australia. Though 27 years have gone by, there is no prospect ahead of having the kind of time necessary to make such a trip.

Regards to Esther and yourself.

Sincerely yours,
